

AMELIA EARHART'S SOGS

Battleship, Navy Planes Search Pacific Wastes for Lost Flyers

Her Fate Still Unknown
DOWN IN PACIFIC AFTER MISSING GOAL.

Amelia Earhart Putnam, who, with her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan, is being sought today by a Coast Guard cutter, U. S. minesweeper, and Navy and commercial planes near lonely Howland Island in the South Pacific where her costly globe circling plane, out of fuel, came to a forced landing.

GREYHOUND
RACING TONITE
ONLY DOUBLE TO GO
RACES CLOSELY BY WONDERLAND
REVEAL

REVERE BEACH
FIREWORKS
8:00 P.M. TO 11:00 P.M.
LIGHT ALL NIGHT AT 8:30 P.M.

THE WEATHER
Showers today, probably clearing by afternoon. Fair and slightly warmer tomorrow with some possibility of thunder showers. Moderate southwest winds shifting to west or northwest by nightfall.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

Copyright, 1937, by N. E. Newspaper Publishing Co. Entered as second-class matter at Boston Postoffice.
The only Boston evening newspaper with three direct news services
—Associated Press, International News Service and Universal Service.
VOL. 34—No. 89 BOSTON, SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1937 PRICE 2 CENTS
SIXTEEN PAGES

SPORTS
MARKETS
CLOSED

ROOSEVELTS 3 OHIO CHIEFS RYE BEACH VISITORS DROPPED IN CIO 'PURGE'

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and his new bride, the former Ethel DuPont, who successfully rounded reporters in New York and points north, are honeymooning at the summer home of James Roosevelt in Rye Beach, N. H. It was learned exclusively by the Boston Evening American today.

It was believed the young couple plan to stay at the hotel Roosevelt son's resort home until shortly before July 10, when it is reported they are to board a steamer in Montreal for a European journey.

An air of secrecy surrounded the newsworthy presence at Rye Beach and Franklin could not be reached on the telephone.

Slipping away from their brilliant nuptials in Wilmington, Del. Wednesday, Franklin and Ethel confounded every effort of newspapermen to trace them.

In New York a close watch was kept on trains and hotels but it was not until the hotel had actually left the city that their presence there was learned.

Then the only news that could be gathered was the fact that the President's son and his bride had headed north in Franklin's modern automobile, which was loaded down with luggage.

The newsworthy, whose names have crowded newspapers for weeks before their wedding, apparently sped straight to Rye Beach without being recognized, but news of their arrival leaked out.

It is probable, he said, that it will become fairly tonight and continue so Sunday. The temperature is to stay about the same. Winds gentle, variable and westerly.

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Rain cast a damper on pre-bell-day festivities in and around Boston today but the weather man forecast gave hope of clearing tonight.

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Clearing Weather Forecast Tonight

Hearst Net Finals Are On Today

Climax in Tourney On Harvard Courts

Final matches in the Hearst New England regional tennis tournament, climaxing a week of spectacular sport, will be played today.

Matches to determine the tournament winners will start at 2 p. m. at the Harvard University courts adjacent to Indoor Field House, nearby the football stadium.

In the final are Edward Fuller, Salem, versus Paul Guilford, Melrose, in men's singles.

Sylvia Hatch, Winchester, in women's singles.

Fuller and Guilford versus Walter Leavitt, Haverhill, and Vaughn Pipes, Watertown, in men's doubles.

Matches will follow in that order, one after another, starting at 2 p. m.

During the past week, more than 10,000 spectators had seen well-named matches in the tournament sponsored by the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

All matches are free and open to the public.

Find Woman's Body In Flax Pond, Lynn

Clashed in summer sport clothing, the body of an unidentified woman about 40 years of age was found floating in Flax Pond, Lynn, today by a group of children playing on the pond shore.

The body was taken to Lynn mortuary to await further examination by the medical examiner.

Police said the woman wore a blue dress, black sport shoes and stockings. Her hair was tinged with gray.

Spain Nuns Sent Blessings by Pope

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, July 3 (AP)—Pope Pius sent a special blessing to nuns of Spain today, through a group of refugee Sisters from Barcelona.

He urged "prayer for peace, Spain as afflicted by such a faith," and urged the Sisters to apply themselves for "your country's good until peace for all is restored."

Balances and Receipts

Washington, July 3
Treasury balance $1,000,000,000
Customs receipts $1,000,000,000

DE VALERA IN LEAD; GEN. MURPHY UPSET

Dublin, July 3 (AP)—Tricking returns from the Irish Free State's general election today gave President Eamon DeValera's government party an increasing lead over the opposition headed by former President William T. Cosgrave.

Incomplete returns showed DeValera's supporters 17 seats in the Dail (Parliament), Cosgrave eight, the Labor party two, Independent Labor one and Independents four.

Both the President and Cosgrave were returned to their Dail seats but full election results were not expected to be known until next week, including the fate of the proposed new constitution.

In County Clare, DeValera polled 14,012 votes, almost double the number of his nearest opponent. Cosgrave received 8,008 votes in Clonmel, the Labor party 1,000 over Cosgrave's government coalition.

The greatest political sensation thus far was the defeat of Cosgrave's second-in-command, General Richard Mulcahy, former chief of the Free State army.

He was beaten in the Dublin northeast district by James Larkin, independent labor candidate who was once sentenced to five years in Sing Sing prison, New York, on charges of criminal anarchy during the World War.

The new Dail will have 128 members in comparison with the 155 who formerly sat in the Parliament.

On the constitutional question, a majority of 115-68 votes was rolled up in South Dublin favoring the dominant party.

The Free State's last tie with the British Empire, ignoring the British crown, and would change the name to the ancient title of "Eire."

Thomas Bligh, in far western Ireland, was the first constituency to vote for the new constitution, by a margin of 1,136 votes.

FAINT SIGNALS RAISE HOPE FOR AMELIA

Washington, July 3 (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters received a report from Hawaii today that at 10:57 a. m., Greenwich time (6:57 a. m. Eastern Daylight Time) radio operators listening for possible signals from Amelia Earhart heard a series of long dashes on 3105 kilocycles. No identifying call was given. The signals were said to have lasted for 22 seconds.

Washington, July 3 (AP)—The Navy Department ordered the battleship Colorado today to participate in the search for Amelia Earhart. The Colorado, the Navy said, arrived at Honolulu yesterday and carries three planes which would be available for the search.

Honolulu, July 3 (INS)—Nine naval bombers were ordered into the air from Pearl Harbor at 11 a. m. today to join the search for Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan, believed adrift on the Pacific somewhere near Howland Island.

(By Associated Press)

Honolulu, July 3 (AP)—Distress signals signed with the call letters of Amelia Earhart's monoplane flashed over the Pacific today in the midst of a feverish sea and sky hunt for the famed aviatrix, missing in equatorial waters surrounding tiny Howland Island.

Amateur radio operators in Los Angeles heard repeated calls of "SOS—KHAQQ" shortly before 1:30 a. m. (5:30 a. m. EDT).

This was more than 14 hours after the intrepid flier said her gasoline supply would last but 30 minutes on her flight from distant New Guinea.

Coast Guardsmen suggested the fliers may have reached a coral reef or sandpit and let up their emergency radio.

Weather conditions were reported fairly favorable for safety of the pair, whether they were on a remote Atoll or adrift.

The amateurs, Walter McMenamy and Carl Pierson, said the signals were so weak they could hardly hear them through dense static, and that once when they caught the letters "L.A.T." for latitude, the signals were blotted out by interference.

"KHAQQ" is the call of Miss Earhart's plane, last heard from in the air yesterday at 3:12 p. m. EDT, when she reported she and her navigator, the veteran Fred Noonan, could not sight land and were nearly out of gas.

Pierson and McMenamy reported intercepting the figures "179," and a few seconds later the figure "16."

They were uncertain whether the figure intended was 179.16, or whether the latter figure should have been 1.06. The first figure was believed by the operators to

Continued on Page 2, Column 1

At Fenway Park Banker Is Killed In Barbecue Raid

PHILADELPHIA, July 3 (AP)—Charles H. Amster, 45, president of the American Security Company of New Albany, was killed by three men today in a barbecue raid, the woman was wounded, when three men raided a barbecue stand, three miles from here, early today.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3 (AP)—Charles H. Amster, 45, president of the American Security Company of New Albany, was killed by three men today in a barbecue raid, the woman was wounded, when three men raided a barbecue stand, three miles from here, early today.

Howland Island Jinx Sits in as Co-Pilot on Round-the-World Flight

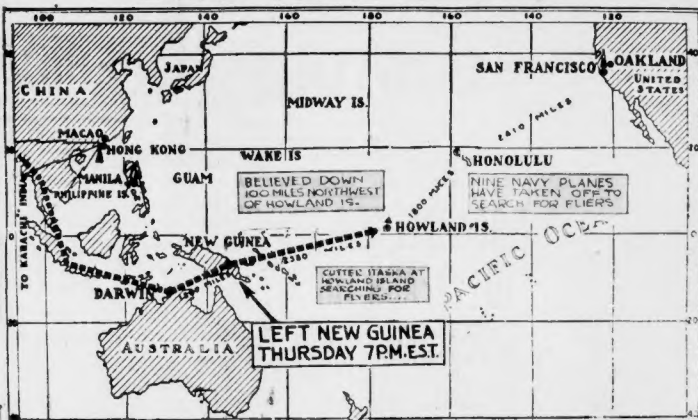

Daring Fliers and Costly 'Flying Laboratory' Downed on Perilous Attempt to Hop Pacific

Amelia Earhart and Captain Fred Noonan, her navigator, are shown above as they discussed plans for their globe-circling flight a day or two before their takeoff from Miami, Fla. The world today was in fear they have met the fate of so many ocean fliers—death in an unmarked grave beneath the waves.

'Amelia's $80,000 "flying laboratory" caught at start of flight.

COMB PACIFIC FOR AMELIA AFTER FANTASY'S SILENCE

Continued from First Page

represent the longitude and the latter possibly the latitude. The signals were weak and were considerably hampered by static. The receiving operators were unable to determine if it was west or east longitude, or north or south latitude.

The position in any event would place the plane between 100 and 200 miles west of Howland Island, near the equator, and within one degree of the international date line.

Another message signed with the plane's call letters and seeking radio contact was picked up in the South Seas earlier by the New Zealand warship Achilles, the San Francisco coast guard reported.

The Achilles, many miles south and east of Howland, messaged "Unknown station, heard to make. Please give us a few flashes if you get us. Signal on 3185 kilocycles." This station made "XHAQQ" twice and disappeared. Nothing more since then.

ON PLANE'S WAY-LENGTH
The Achilles' message said the radio was heard on 3105 kilocycles, which is the frequency assigned to Miss Earhart's plane for night communication.

Miss Earhart was generally believed to have come down in shark-infested waters, within a radius of 100 miles northwest of Howland Island, after having overboard the tiny target, no. 207-mile hop from Las, New Guinea.

A heavy smog belched from the funnel of the gleaming white, 207-mile cutter, blacked visible for miles from the Howland Island anchorage, as it ploughed forward on the cutter was in quest of the $80,000 Earhart "flying laboratory."

While the cutter hunted by sea the woman who started a world flight "just for fun" in a tiny flying boat sped over the 100-mile distance from Honolulu.

NAVYMANEYER JOINS HUNT
The Navy minesweeper Swan joined the hunt from a position halfway between here and Howland, where it had been ordered to give possible aid to Miss Earhart on the next leg of the flight.

The flying boat itself undertook a hazardous night flight to join the search. Carrying a crew of eight, it took off from Pearl Harbor and headed directly for Howland, a distance of 1,000 miles.

PEAGUED BY STATIC
Headwinds and static combined to plague the fliers as they flew the time they left Las. They were unable to communicate with the fleet because of the static, and the adverse winds cut speed and increased fuel consumption.

"We have had no position, speed or direction from Earhart's plane," the fleet radio headquarters in San Francisco.

"We believe it passed north and west of island and missed it in case of rising sun, although they were smoking hourly that time. Judge she came down within 100 miles of island."

In the 100 miles of whirling, the plane was in a state of no regular shipping lanes, through it because it has no inhabited islands or ports.

The plane's last known position, 40 miles south, but there was a disputed point. Or, as her last message indicated, the plane was within 100 miles of Howland Island.

At Los Angeles, Mrs. E. S. Earhart, her stepmother, said resolutely: "I am sure Amelia will come through."

"Amelia believes in preparedness. If she is in trouble—and somehow I feel she is not—she'll find her way out. I know that she carried a collapsible rubber boat for use in case of a forced landing."

PLANE ABLE TO FLOAT
Paul Mantz, technical adviser to the aviators, who twice crossed the Atlantic, said in Burbank, Calif., that the plane's six gas tanks would give it buoyancy to stay afloat "indefinitely."

George Palmer Putnam, husband of the missing flier, was in constant communication with coast guard headquarters at San Francisco. He expressed belief his wife and her companion would be found safe, adding:

"The plane should float, but I couldn't estimate how long because a Lockheed plane has never been forced down at sea before."

The plane had a two-man rubber lifeboat, lifebats, fuses, a signal light and emergency food and water rations. The fliers began their search as soon as officers determined the ship must have been forced down.

The minesweeper Swan was ordered south from its position last night. The boat was not expected to reach the Howland Island area for several days.

DRIFTING WESTWARD
At San Francisco, Lieutenant Frank Johnson, explaining that the Earhart plane presumably came down at a point 100 miles from Howland Island, said he had estimated the drift would carry a floating plane westward at the rate of two knots an hour, about 50 miles a day.

Naval officials here declared it would be useless to start surface vessels out to search for the missing couple, because it would take nearly five days to reach the area.

The new flying boat, of the type that recently flew here from California, and from San Diego to Panama, would be able to cover thousands of square miles in a comparatively short while.

Aboard the flying boat with Lieut. Harvey were Lieut. W. M. Drake, Junior Grade Lieut. E. R. Lark, Aviation Cadet P. W. Smith, Radioman McCormick and Williams, and Mechanic Curry and English.

Put intended for Miss Earhart's plane is based at Howland and will be available to the flying boat.

Howland Island is a twelve and a half mile long, narrow island, a direct air line from Honolulu to Australia. It has been maintained on the ground to make weather observations. Plans have been made to lay out a permanent airfield.

It was not her first ocean hop. She was the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic and the first person—man or woman—to cross the Atlantic.

Among her other first flights was her solo from Honolulu to California, January 11-12, 1935.

Dakar, her goal when she left Natal June 6, was 500 miles nearer than Honolulu on her earlier flight.

The flight held no terrors for her—had she missed her mark, landing at St. Louis, Senegal. Later she confessed she had failed to fly to Dakar because she overruled Noonan on the course he laid out.

RECORD FOR CHANGING
Aviators at Dakar said they believed it was a record for the fastest 22 minutes.

Her next objective was Khartoum, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. The trip, ordinarily commonplace since the route already had been mapped and flown hundreds of times by British aviators, proved more exciting when she decided to skirt a storm.

Visibility-destroying steam boiled up from the swampy central African jungle as Miss Earhart and Noonan dived over a longer French route at a low altitude, to glimpse airway markings. They tried three times to break through the sheets of water before they covered 400 miles.

They came down at Rangoon, proceeding uneventfully from there to Saigon, India, Rangoon, Java, and then to Darwin, Australia.

From Darwin it was a short flight to Lae, New Guinea. Thursday night she took off from Lae for an 18 to 20 hour adventure to Howland Island—and vanished.

2 Japanese Pilots Killed
Tokyo, July 3 (AP)—Two naval plane pilots were killed today when a plane crashed into a residence in Aomori, Aichi prefecture.

PEARL HARBOR FLIGHT
More perilous even than the North Atlantic flight Miss Earhart negotiated in 1932 was the Aomori-Karachi hop.

It was a several hundred miles longer—1000 in all—and carried her across the desolate Red Sea and Arabian desert country.

After a few days rest, Miss Earhart and her navigator took off for Bangkok, Siam, which they planned to reach in two hops via Calcutta. No sooner had they left Calcutta than the treacherous monsoons, heavy tropical rain storms, broke. Grounded at Akyah, Burma, they tried three times to break through the sheets of water before they covered 400 miles.

They came down at Rangoon, proceeding uneventfully from there to Saigon, India, Rangoon, Java, and then to Darwin, Australia.

From Darwin it was a short flight to Lae, New Guinea. Thursday night she took off from Lae for an 18 to 20 hour adventure to Howland Island—and vanished.

PEARL HARBOR FLIGHT
More perilous even than the North Atlantic flight Miss Earhart negotiated in 1932 was the Aomori-Karachi hop.

It was a several hundred miles longer—1000 in all—and carried her across the desolate Red Sea and Arabian desert country.

After a few days rest, Miss Earhart and her navigator took off for Bangkok, Siam, which they planned to reach in two hops via Calcutta. No sooner had they left Calcutta than the treacherous monsoons, heavy tropical rain storms, broke. Grounded at Akyah, Burma, they tried three times to break through the sheets of water before they covered 400 miles.

They came down at Rangoon, proceeding uneventfully from there to Saigon, India, Rangoon, Java, and then to Darwin, Australia.

From Darwin it was a short flight to Lae, New Guinea. Thursday night she took off from Lae for an 18 to 20 hour adventure to Howland Island—and vanished.

PEARL HARBOR FLIGHT
More perilous even than the North Atlantic flight Miss Earhart negotiated in 1932 was the Aomori-Karachi hop.

It was a several hundred miles longer—1000 in all—and carried her across the desolate Red Sea and Arabian desert country.

After a few days rest, Miss Earhart and her navigator took off for Bangkok, Siam, which they planned to reach in two hops via Calcutta. No sooner had they left Calcutta than the treacherous monsoons, heavy tropical rain storms, broke. Grounded at Akyah, Burma, they tried three times to break through the sheets of water before they covered 400 miles.

They came down at Rangoon, proceeding uneventfully from there to Saigon, India, Rangoon, Java, and then to Darwin, Australia.

From Darwin it was a short flight to Lae, New Guinea. Thursday night she took off from Lae for an 18 to 20 hour adventure to Howland Island—and vanished.

"Ave and vale—hail and farewell." Amelia Earhart and her husband, George Palmer Putnam, in a characteristic pose. The daring aviatrix bidding goodbye to sponsor on a previous flight, from which she returned successful. It was another one of those air daring ventures that made her the outstanding woman flier of the world.

Newton Teacher's 'God' Subject for Auto Kills Boy

Arthur L. Wright, of North Gate Park, West Newton, a teacher, was cleared today in connection with the death of a nine-year-old boy by St. John, N. B., according to word received here.

The boy, David Breen, was riding on a bicycle when struck by the machine allegedly driven by Wright. In attempting to avoid the youngster, Wright swerved his car in a ditch. Wright escaped injury while his wife suffered a broken nose.

The Newton teacher and his wife were bound for Prince Edward Island on vacation.

Blazing Ship Grounded
Fernando De Noronha, Brazil, July 3 (AP)—A fire raging in her hold, the Greek freighter Thoros grounded on this island today. Twenty-nine members of the crew and a hundred stowaways unloaded the cargo of ore in an attempt to check the blaze.

Standard American ENCycloPEDIA
COUPON NO. 6

15 Volumes, offered by BOSTON AMERICAN

Clip these daily coupons every day. Each six that are differently numbered will entitle you to purchase one volume of the STANDARD AMERICAN ENCycloPEDIA at one of the conveniently located coupon stations. Pay $4.00 for the Standard Home Binding or $4.00 for the Library Lifetime Binding.

If Ordering By Mail Fill In One Coupon Below—Send In ENTIRE Coupons

Address Orders to: BOSTON AMERICAN, P. O. Box 864, Westin Square, Boston, Mass. If you desire the book sent by mail or Western Union, enclose the SET OF SIX differently numbered Coupons together with P. O. Money Order or Express Order.

Do if you live within 100 miles, do if you live beyond 100 miles. Extra Charge for Postage and Packing. NO POSTAGE NECESSARY IF MAILED IN THE UNITED STATES.

Designate Carefully the Binding and Number of Volume Desired.

Send Vol. No. Popular Binding Library Binding Name Address City State PRINT NAME AND ADDRESS IN PENCIL WITH CARE.

NO COUPONS ON MONDAY

Boston American not published on July 6th.

Coupons 1 and 2 for the World's Best Literature and the Encyclopedia will be printed in

TUESDAY'S BOSTON AMERICAN

July 6

COUPON NO. 6

BOOK-A-WEEK SPECIAL CONCESSION COUPON

World's Greatest Literature

This Coupon (with five others, all differently numbered, 6 altogether) entitles the holder to one volume of the BOSTON AMERICAN ENCycloPEDIA. Offer of the World's Greatest Literature when presented at one of the Coupon Stations located with the purchase price of $4.00. Do if you live within 100 miles, do if you live beyond 100 miles. Extra Charge for Postage and Packing. NO POSTAGE NECESSARY IF MAILED IN THE UNITED STATES. Designate Carefully the Name and Number of Book Desired. Send Book No. Name Address City State PRINT NAME AND ADDRESS IN PENCIL WITH CARE.

Amelia's Sister Confident Her Luck Will Hold

Chin up and smiling brightly, Mrs. Grace Earhart Morrisey, sister of the famed Amelia, rocked her chair next to a radio in her Medford home today and told the world that nothing could happen to the girl lost somewhere in the Pacific.

But as reports failed to disclose the location of Miss Earhart and her navigator, Capt. Fred Noonan, Mrs. Morrisey rocked her chair, held Davis, 7, and Anne, 5, in her lap, and begged newspapermen and visitors to leave the house.

STILL CONFIDENT

Shortly before noon, Mrs. Morrisey and the children bared all visitors, but not before she had said this:

"Nothing can happen to Amelia. This is the longest time she has ever been in trouble, but we would never think of giving up hope. She is not the type to become pessimistic, and if the ship is afloat she will wait there calmly and patiently until they find her."

WORKED IN BOSTON

Boston was particularly interested in Amelia today for she had attended fame here. Attention was first attracted to her in June, 1928, when she gave up a position in a Boston settlement house to become the first woman to fly to the Atlantic.

Immediately she became the public possession of Boston, not only because of her feat, but also because of her startling resemblance to Charles A. Lindbergh. She was dubbed "Lady Lindy."

The adventure in the plane, "Friendship," which she piloted with Commander Byrd and carrying Vinny Stutz as pilot and Lou Clugger as mechanic.

The flight was financed by George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher of Lindbergh's book.

Historic Flight Began With Hawaii Crackup

Oakland, Cal., July 3.—The log of Amelia Earhart's "last flight" around the world flight, according to Capt. Fred Noonan, follows:

- May 20.—Left Oakland for Miami. Had previous crackup in Hawaii on take off for French Island.
- June 1.—Took off at Miami, Fla. for San Juan, Puerto Rico, 190 miles.
- June 2.—Hopped San Juan in Carapito, Venezuela, 125 miles.
- June 3.—Carapito to Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, 150 miles.
- June 4.—Paramaribo to Fortaleza, Brazil, 105 miles.
- June 6.—Fortaleza to Natal, Brazil, 260 miles.
- June 7.—Natal to St. Louis, Senegal, French West Africa, 180 miles.
- June 8.—St. Louis to Dakar, Senegal, 125 miles.
- June 10.—Dakar to Cape French West Africa, 115 miles.
- June 11.—Cape French to Port Louis, French Equatorial Africa, 100 miles.
- June 12.—Port Louis to Khartoum, Egypt, 300 miles.
- June 13.—Khartoum to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 14.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 15.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 16.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 17.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 18.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 19.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 20.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 21.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 22.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 23.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 24.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 25.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 26.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 27.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 28.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 29.—Harar to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, 100 miles.
- June 30.—Addis Ababa to Harar, Ethiopia, 100 miles.

Mother, 3 Children Saved in Me. Fire

Portland, Me., July 3 (AP).—A policeman early today saved a mother and her three children from possible death by fire after he discovered smoke billowing from their home.

The mother, Mrs. Margaret White, 28, and her three children, 10, 8, and 6, were rescued by the fire department.

HOLIDAY RUSH ON; GALA EVENTS SET

Crowds of holiday vacationers are pouring into Boston and New England today in preparation for the Fourth of July celebrations to be ushered in tomorrow night with a gala of fireworks.

It is expected the largest number of summer vacationers will arrive for the festivities here today.

Partly cloudy weather predictions for the occasion.

Extra coaches and Pullman extra cars have been pressed into service to take care of the multitude.

The New Haven railroad will operate 600 trains with a capacity of 375,000 and the Boston Maine will "put into commission everything it has."

Boston's program of entertainment will begin tomorrow with three band concerts at the Fairmount Bandstand in the late afternoon, another in Oak Grove, Brighton, from 8 to 10 p. m., and another in the Ringier bandstand, Allston, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Other bonfires at midnight to follow will be at Fiskman Park, Salem, Galloway Hill, Salem, Con-

ANXIOUS KIN AWAIT WORD OF MISSING FLIERS

Amelia Earhart, missing in flight, is pictured with Commander Harold G. Palmer, U. S. Naval Reserve, at the Oakland Coast Guard station, pictured by International News Service photo.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

Amelia Earhart, missing in flight, is pictured with Commander Harold G. Palmer, U. S. Naval Reserve, at the Oakland Coast Guard station, pictured by International News Service photo.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

Today's flight by the Americans was being matched by a British crew in an Imperial Airways biplane, the American route for the day was 1072 miles to Bolinas, San Francisco Bay, N. H.

The British schedule called for the first stop to Ponape, Line Islands, from where they will take off Monday night for the Atlantic, simultaneously with the Pan-American Clipper.

Neither passengers nor mail are being carried on the experimental flights.

Post Washington, N. Y., July 3 (AP).—Seven friends of Capt. Fred J. Noonan, Amelia Earhart's companion on her world flight, arrived today on a transatlantic air venture.

They were Capt. Harold E. Gray and his crew of six in Pan-American Clipper II, making the same type of experimental flight to Manila two years ago in preparation for the present trans-Pacific air service.

FLIERS Often Saved AT SEA

SOME DRIFT MANY DAYS

New York, July 3 (AP).—Anxiety for the safety of Amelia Earhart and Captain Fred J. Noonan, missing in their flight, was tempered today by the recollection of other fliers who have drifted into the sea and lived.

Groups of at least eight airplanes and one motorized dirigible have been rescued after forced landings at sea. In four cases the fliers had drifted for periods varying from three to nine days.

Perhaps the most dramatic rescue was that of Commander John S. Rodgers and 1925 Navy flier who drifted nine days in the Pacific in September 1925, 100 miles short of Hawaii, their goal on a hop from San Pablo Bay. A submarine rescued the crew.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

On a flight now recorded as the "first" of the transatlantic air history, Walter Wellman, newspaperman, and his crew were rescued by a steamer in October 1910, after their motorized dirigible "America" was forced down 800 miles off Cape Hatteras in an attempt to fly from Atlantic City to Ireland.

Infantile Germ Isolated at Last

Science's first major step in the conquest of infantile paralysis is isolation of the germ which causes the disease has been accomplished.

Dr. Edward C. Rosenow, well-known bacteriologist from Mayo Foundation, announced here today that he had isolated the germ which causes the disease.

Dr. Rosenow today is working on the germ which causes the disease.

The next great step will be the development of a vaccine to protect those who live in combat with other diseases.

PACIFIC CRASH FATAL TO WOMAN IN '27

San Francisco, July 3 (AP).—The woman of the Pacific, Mrs. Amelia Earhart, has been found dead in a transatlantic plane crash near Bolinas, Calif., today.

Mrs. Earhart, 38, was found in a transatlantic plane crash near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

The crash occurred on July 2, 1937, near Bolinas, Calif., today.

Charge Parents 'Fagins'; Held With 2 Sons

A mother and father said by police to be "Fagins" who schooled their two sons in breaking and entering were revealed by police of the Back Bay station today.

According to Special Officer Bates and John J. McNichols, who made the arrest.

Police said they hope to clear up the case on Monday.

The boys broke into the house of Frank Harter on Beacon street, Back Bay, last Thursday and made away with $200 in cash and a gold watch valued at $10 and a suit of clothes. One was home at the time.

Only when they returned the following night, however, did they fall into the hands of the police.

Going up to the house to investigate the break, the two officers said they spotted one of the boys waiting down in the basement of the house carrying a typewriter.

When the boys broke into the house of Frank Harter on Beacon street, Back Bay, last Thursday and made away with $200 in cash and a gold watch valued at $10 and a suit of clothes. One was home at the time.

Only when they returned the following night, however, did they fall into the hands of the police.

Going up to the house to investigate the break, the two officers said they spotted one of the boys waiting down in the basement of the house carrying a typewriter.

When the boys broke into the house of Frank Harter on Beacon street, Back Bay, last Thursday and made away with $200 in cash and a gold watch valued at $10 and a suit of clothes. One was home at the time.

Only when they returned the following night, however, did they fall into the hands of the police.

Going up to the house to investigate the break, the two officers said they spotted one of the boys waiting down in the basement of the house carrying a typewriter.

When the boys broke into the house of Frank Harter on Beacon street, Back Bay, last Thursday and made away with $200 in cash and a gold watch valued at $10 and a suit of clothes. One was home at the time.

Only when they returned the following night, however, did they fall into the hands of the police.

Going up to the house to investigate the break, the two officers said they spotted one of the boys waiting down in the basement of the house carrying a typewriter.

When the boys broke into the house of Frank Harter on Beacon street, Back Bay, last Thursday and made away with $200 in cash and a gold watch valued at $10 and a suit of clothes. One was home at the time.

Only when they returned the following night, however, did they fall into the hands of the police.

Going up to the house to investigate the break, the two officers said they spotted one of the boys waiting down in the basement of the house carrying a typewriter.

When the boys broke into the house of Frank Harter on Beacon street, Back Bay, last Thursday and made away with $200 in cash and a gold watch valued at $10 and a suit of clothes. One was home at the time.

SCHOOL BOARD HEAD DEFENDS TEACHER

"More gossip" was the only word for Saugus school committee action in regarding the resignation of Miss Isabel Hallin, pretty dramatic at Saugus high school, according to Chairman George A. McCarthy today.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

His attitude today encouraged the teachers' friends and supporters who are organizing a vigorous fight to prevent her final dismissal.

McCarthy said against ousting Miss Hallin, he asserted.

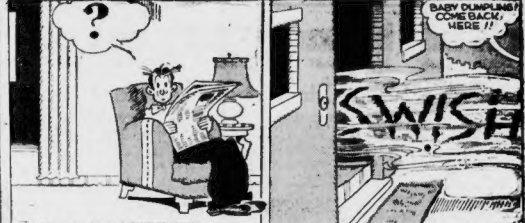

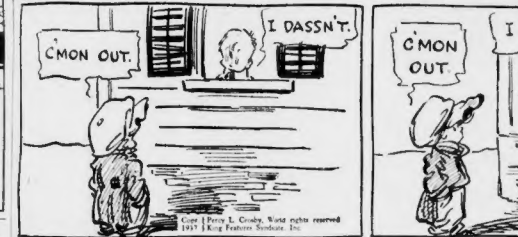

THIMBLE THEATRE, Starring POPEYE

BRINGING UP FATHER

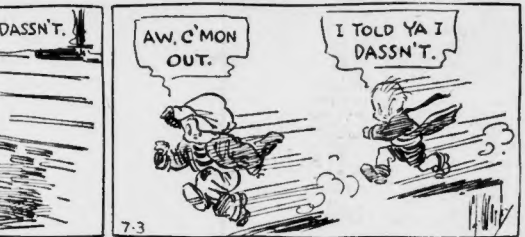

SKIPPY

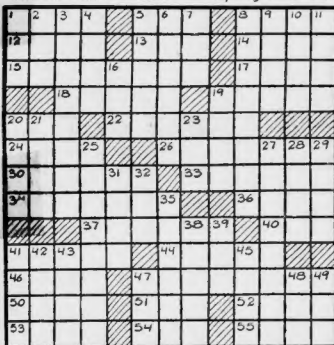

That Settles It!

Taking a Dare

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE -- By Eugene Sheffer

- HORIZONTAL
- 1-cougar
 - 2-guided
 - 3-ancient capital of the Toltecs
 - 12-newspaper paragraph
 - 13-chopping tool
 - 14-three handed armadillo
 - 15-process of charging with gas
 - 17-direction to return to the pitch (meadow)
 - 18-kind of beet
 - 19-tendon
 - 20-tree
 - 21-mature persons
 - 24-kind of fuel
 - 25-machines for making joints in sheet metal
 - 29-perpetuating to mix
 - 35-journey
 - 36-side dishes
 - 37-accrue
- VERTICAL
- 1-perennial
 - 11-in a line
 - 15-Chinese pagoda
 - 19-celestial body
 - 20-protecing part of a building
 - 21-observed
 - 22-permit
 - 23-plants allied to worm-wood
 - 27-proof
 - 28-small rockfish
 - 29-murdered
 - 30-bamboo
 - 31-like grass
 - 32-Japanese coin
 - 33-saunter
 - 36-rost of a bird of prey
 - 39-courts in a Buddhist temple
 - 41-wind instrument
 - 42-member of a European race
 - 43-group of three
 - 45-leash of a call
 - 47-seed of a well-known vine
 - 48-definite article
 - 49-place
- YESTERDAY'S ANSWERS:
- 1-AFORE
 - 2-PORE
 - 3-ELABORATE
 - 4-MAINTAIN
 - 5-DEVELOP
 - 6-REPAIR
 - 7-REPAIR
 - 8-REPAIR
 - 9-REPAIR
 - 10-REPAIR
 - 11-REPAIR
 - 12-REPAIR
 - 13-REPAIR
 - 14-REPAIR
 - 15-REPAIR
 - 16-REPAIR
 - 17-REPAIR
 - 18-REPAIR
 - 19-REPAIR
 - 20-REPAIR
 - 21-REPAIR
 - 22-REPAIR
 - 23-REPAIR
 - 24-REPAIR
 - 25-REPAIR
 - 26-REPAIR
 - 27-REPAIR
 - 28-REPAIR
 - 29-REPAIR
 - 30-REPAIR
 - 31-REPAIR
 - 32-REPAIR
 - 33-REPAIR
 - 34-REPAIR
 - 35-REPAIR
 - 36-REPAIR
 - 37-REPAIR
 - 38-REPAIR
 - 39-REPAIR
 - 40-REPAIR
 - 41-REPAIR
 - 42-REPAIR
 - 43-REPAIR
 - 44-REPAIR
 - 45-REPAIR
 - 46-REPAIR
 - 47-REPAIR
 - 48-REPAIR
 - 49-REPAIR

BOYS! GIRLS! VOTE HERE--clip ballot and mail to "Uncle Newt," Boston American--TUNE IN WMEX at 5:45 every weekday night and hear the "Funnies" on the air.

my favorite Boston American Comics are

1 _____

2 _____

3 _____

my name _____

address _____

city _____ state _____

age _____ school _____

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

POLLY AND HER PALS

ROOM AND BOARD

"Patrol Wagon Stoop"

HENRY

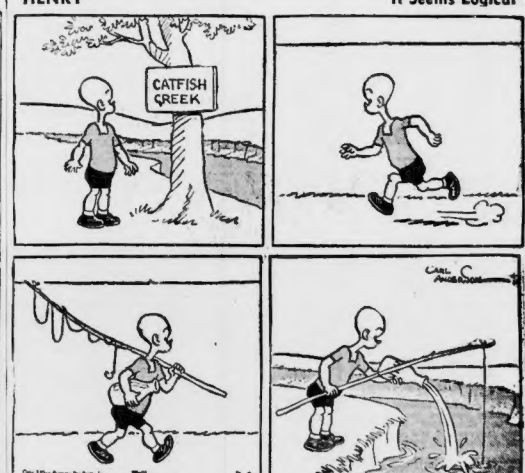

A "Rich" Man's Privilege

Maybe He Was Being Chased!

It Seems Logical

Irwin Sane, Declares Expert

Ethel Kudner Scorns Story He Planned Her Murder—Not Ronnie's

Ethel Kudner in Her Home Beside the Head of Her That Irwin Modeled

Killer Knew CIO Drops 3 Chiefs; All Her Habits Victim's Sister Says His Tale Is Lie

New York, July 3.—"Robert Irwin is as sane as any prisoner in this institution," said Deputy Commissioner of Correction David Maroon, in discussing the confessed slayer of Veronica Gellera.

"He certainly is not crazy, regardless of what he might have been when he killed those three people," Maroon continued. "He wouldn't be here in the Tombs very long if he was crazy. We send them to the psychiatric ward of Bellevue the minute they begin to show signs of insanity."

Irwin, who is charged "only" with a "bodily" assault, was freed from custody by his own attorney, who was freed from custody by his own attorney, who was freed from custody by his own attorney.

In an exclusive interview for the International News, he said: "Robert Irwin did not want to murder me last summer."

"He did what he came to do when he walked into my power mother's apartment, that was to murder my sister, Ronnie. Which he did at the extra cost of two other lives."

"I wish that every working evening of my life I left my office, hurried home to prepare for my husband's homecoming an hour later."

"I wish that, for that hour, I was alone in my sister's apartment."

"I wish that, like any other average housewife in this city and world, I would have a right at the doorbell during that hour alone."

"Knowing all those things, what becomes of his story that he arrived in New York on Good Friday and set out on some kind of a shakedown, Helms mission to find out whether or no I was married; if married, whether or no I was living with my husband or at home; where, in short, I could be interviewed for the purpose of murder?"

"He knew all he needed to know for the carrying out of any such crime, and knew it all the while, months in advance—address noted in memory or book."

"No, he never went to my mother's home with any expectation of encountering me. If I entered late the plot for that awful night at all (which I seriously doubt), it can only be that, in one respect, the very reverse of what he has put forward."

At the contempt hearing Miss McCarrigan declared that the money had "just disappeared" and explained that she had told her husband that she had lost it.

Dated at the outcome of what she had thought good fortune, Miss McCarrigan entered Salem jail last week ago.

Motor Unions CIO Drops 3 Chiefs; Reds Claim Strike Aid

Continued from First Page
As Pittsburgh however, Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers' Organization Committee, said he was getting nothing out of the Ohio outers.

Arrangement for three holiday rallies at Ohio and Pennsylvania were cancelled by strike chiefs as the "Back to Work" march continued. Expressing his disappointment, Murray said that the strike was also up in Indiana plants, however, remaining closed, Indiana Steel, where the strike has been settled, was operating "normally."

Philadelphia Truck Strike Settled
Philadelphia, July 3 (INS)—A spectacular strike which tied up trucks, forced "taxi" off the streets, caused suspension of Philadelphia newspapers and threatened to paralyze industry in this city of 2,000,000 population was settled today.

The suddenly-called strike was termed a "general holiday."

In reality it was the climax to a bitter factional struggle between William Green's American Federation of Labor and John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization for jurisdiction over 20,000 truck drivers.

The Joint Teamsters Council No. 33, an AFL affiliate, staged the strike in protest against CIO invasion of the trucking field.

A "status quo" agreement, with the intralabor warfare to be fought out with ballots, brought the "holiday" to an end.

Under the agreement, employees of two large baking companies will designate, by their own votes, whether the CIO or the A. F. of L. will represent them for collective bargaining purposes.

Recognition of the CIO by these companies resulted in the "mass protest" holiday of the A. F. of L.

Chicago Bars Film Of Own Strike Riot
Chicago, July 3 (INS)—New reel motion pictures which recorded the Memorial Day rioting, in which ten persons died at the strike-bound plant of the Republic Steel Corporation in South Chicago will not be exhibited here.

Chicago, July 3 (INS)—New reel motion pictures which recorded the Memorial Day rioting, in which ten persons died at the strike-bound plant of the Republic Steel Corporation in South Chicago will not be exhibited here.

Chicago, July 3 (INS)—New reel motion pictures which recorded the Memorial Day rioting, in which ten persons died at the strike-bound plant of the Republic Steel Corporation in South Chicago will not be exhibited here.

Chicago, July 3 (INS)—New reel motion pictures which recorded the Memorial Day rioting, in which ten persons died at the strike-bound plant of the Republic Steel Corporation in South Chicago will not be exhibited here.

Chicago, July 3 (INS)—New reel motion pictures which recorded the Memorial Day rioting, in which ten persons died at the strike-bound plant of the Republic Steel Corporation in South Chicago will not be exhibited here.

Cupid Takes Aim at John Roosevelt

Anne L. Clark Seen Near-Future Bride

John Roosevelt, last of the unmarried Roosevelt boys, today looked as a bridegroom at the near future with the revelation of his romance with Anne L. Clark, pretty Boston debutante.

Just a few days after his brother, Franklin, Jr., stepped to the altar with the former Rebel duPont, Mrs. Roosevelt's sister, Anne L. Clark, was seen with the President's son.

At her wedding Dave Nant, home Mrs. Clark was careful to point out the couple are not yet engaged.

But they're going together steadily, she said.

Although a formal announcement of engagement will be no surprise to society circles, it is not expected the romance will reach that stage before next fall.

John has not yet completed his term at Harvard and was scheduled to sail for a European vacation to Anne's home in Hyde Park, N. Y. where she went with the President's family immediately after the funeral of her father.

Auto Kills R. J. Woman
Bristol, R. I., July 3 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Mendes Durbin, 32, was instantly killed when she was struck by a car while walking to St. Elizabeth's Church.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

ALFONSO Girl Thrown From Auto Longs for Job, a Home

Son Weds CUBAN PLANS SPAIN HONEYMOON

Havana, July 3 (AP)—Pretty Maria Rocafort, dark-eyed daughter of a Cuban dentist, delightfully termed her scheduled marriage tonight to the Count of Covadonga, once heir to the throne of Spain, "a lovely fairy story."

The count, eldest son of ex-King Alfonso XIII of Spain, and his bride made plans to return to Spain soon after their marriage in the presence of President Federico Laredo, Cuban Minister of Foreign Affairs, and the wife of Havana society.

It will be the 30-year-old count's second marriage to a Cuban commoner.

Only three months ago a divorce court dissolved his marriage with Edwina Samperio, for whom he had renounced his rights in 1933 to the now-vacant Spanish throne.

Over his father's bitter objections, Alfonso married Edwina, whom he had met in a Swiss sanatorium during the count's exile from the peninsula, the hereditary blood disease from which he suffers.

The count and countess count to live in Cuba, seat of her family's extensive sugar holdings, but after almost two years the count sailed away to try a career as an automobile salesman in New York.

He filed suit in New York courts for annulment of his marriage. His wife filed a cross-bill asking alimony.

During the legal warfare, Alfonso was struck with a cruel bleeding disease, and his mother, Queen Victoria, rushed after the Atlantic to be at his bedside.

She was said at the time to have attempted to straighten out the marital and financial tangle in which he was involved.

When he recovered he returned the divorce suit filed by his wife charging abandonment and non-support. Soon after the divorce, he and Miss Rocafort filed notices of intention to marry.

All year long, however, she had to stay in bed, until just two weeks ago.

Now she's coming home, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Walker.

Definitely out of danger and steadily gaining strength, she will have to spend most of her time in bed for a while to let her new skin lose its tenderness.

PLAN SPAIN VISIT
President Laredo has issued a decree waiving the 15-day period of waiting required, but before the marriage could be performed the count was stricken ill again.

Several transfusions he received under the ministrations of his bride-to-be.

The many obstacles in their romance failed to dampen the happiness of Miss Rocafort.

"I feel that I'm living a lovely fairy story," she said as she surveyed piles of wedding presents.

"After another month in Cuba we'll go to Spain," she announced.

"Seattle, probably," she said.

"Alfonso has a great desire to go back to his own country and I am enchanted."

The light-hearted bride made no mention of the decree of repudiation Spain, now best by insurgent forces, which forbade members of the Bourbon family from returning to their former kingdom after Alfonso XIII fled the country.

"Evelyn Randall" at Cambridge City Hospital

Girl Badly Burned Last July 4 Ready to Quit Hospital

Williamstown, July 3 (Times)—She'll be celebrating her own sixth birthday anniversary, and she'll be home from a New York hospital, where she was taken last July 4, when she was terribly burned in a fireworks accident.

A specialist set Mrs. Randall's clothes afire. It was thought at first she couldn't live.

Successful surgeons at Presbyterian Hospital, New York, saved her with skin grafts.

All year long, however, she had to stay in bed, until just two weeks ago.

Now she's coming home, to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Walker.

Definitely out of danger and steadily gaining strength, she will have to spend most of her time in bed for a while to let her new skin lose its tenderness.

PLAN SPAIN VISIT
President Laredo has issued a decree waiving the 15-day period of waiting required, but before the marriage could be performed the count was stricken ill again.

Several transfusions he received under the ministrations of his bride-to-be.

The many obstacles in their romance failed to dampen the happiness of Miss Rocafort.

"I feel that I'm living a lovely fairy story," she said as she surveyed piles of wedding presents.

"After another month in Cuba we'll go to Spain," she announced.

"Seattle, probably," she said.

"Alfonso has a great desire to go back to his own country and I am enchanted."

The light-hearted bride made no mention of the decree of repudiation Spain, now best by insurgent forces, which forbade members of the Bourbon family from returning to their former kingdom after Alfonso XIII fled the country.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Summer driving in mass enjoyed in a good used car. Enjoy your summer holidays in the most in a better, later, safer, used car selected from today's Automobile-for-Sale columns.

Tells of Hard Luck But Says She's No 'Cry Baby'

By BETTY DI PESA
If the world could only give her a "new deal" that's all that the girl who calls herself Evelyn Randall could ask. She wants a job and a home. Most of all a home.

I thought a woman who ran a rooming house in Worcester street in the South End was nice to me, but I didn't want to impose on her. I got out."

What preceded the loss into the street in Cambridge, Miss Randall said, was just another attempt to get a job. A girl she knew as Betty Smith told her to meet her in a Department store and there she met the three men who took her for a ride. Miss Randall explained.

"One of them got fresh with me and I put up a good fight," she said. "Then I found myself being thrown into the street. I lost consciousness."

With several hundred women from various parts of the United States, as well as from Canada, in attendance at the second national conference of the Lavinia's Retreat Movement opened this morning at a Hotel Somerset.

The program will continue tomorrow and on Sunday delegates will attend sight-seeing tours about Boston.

Several noted speakers as well as women leaders, were among the speakers at the sessions today, welcome by Mrs. E. Mark Sullivan, general chairman of the local committee and a regional vice chairman of the retreat movement.

John J. Harrington of Waltham was presiding officer during the day.

Speakers during the day included the Rev. Frances E. Keenan, S. T. D., of St. John's Seminary, Boston; Mrs. E. F. Voll of St. Louis; Miss Lucille Harrington of Boston; Miss Margaret Maloney of Ottumwa, Ia.; Mrs. Mary A. Freeman of Boston; Mrs. Charles Schindler of Madison, Wis.; Miss Alice Mason of Boston; Miss M. E. Brown of Philadelphia; Miss Mary Hurley of New York; Miss Margaret M. Brown of Boston; Miss M. E. McCauley and Miss Jeanette Kelley, both of Chicago.

The Rev. Paul H. Farley, Ph. D., of Catholic University, Washington, D. C., will be the speaker this evening.

N. J. Woman Guilty in Abandonment
Providence, July 3 (AP)—Pleading guilty to a charge of abandoning a minor in the care of a doctor, a woman was sentenced to 10 years in the Rhode Island State Prison today.

The woman, who was left in a Philadelphia hospital, was charged with abandoning a child in the care of a doctor.

The woman, who was left in a Philadelphia hospital, was charged with abandoning a child in the care of a doctor.

The woman, who was left in a Philadelphia hospital, was charged with abandoning a child in the care of a doctor.

The woman, who was left in a Philadelphia hospital, was charged with abandoning a child in the care of a doctor.

The woman, who was left in a Philadelphia hospital, was charged with abandoning a child in the care of a doctor.

The woman, who was left in a Philadelphia hospital, was charged with abandoning a child in the care of a doctor.

MOVIE 'EVIDENCE' IN CHICAGO FATAL RIOT PROBE

Scene from the now famous Paramount movie newsreel, made during the fatal Memorial Day riot near the South Chicago plant of the Republic Steel Corporation which was shown to the Senate Civil Liberties Committee investigating the riot. Here you see one of the ten persons who were killed after the wave of battle had passed leaving him lying on the ground.

Here is an action section of the Paramount newsreel exhibited as evidence before the LaFollette committee. This frame shows the general melee as Chicago police charged the demonstrating steel strikers. Many of the policemen who were involved in the shooting were identified by the film. Note the hand with the buttoned sleeve in the foreground holding a pistol. Strikers were shot in the back, it was charged.

Woman, 74, Near Collapse in Jail

Miss Mary McCarrigan, 74-year-old Iowa woman imprisoned for contempt of court in connection with a $12,000 estate, was in a state of collapse in Salem jail today.

Weak and shaking and starting to lose life from the age-splintered, emaciated inmate in nothing except her release and second trial to retain the reason for her incarceration.

She was given an indefinite term in jail by Judge Edmund H. Gilman because she failed to turn over bank books of the estate, left to her by Mrs. Mary A. Davis of Iowa, pending a contest of the will later declared invalid.

At the contempt hearing Miss McCarrigan declared that the money had "just disappeared" and explained that she had told her husband that she had lost it.

Dated at the outcome of what she had thought good fortune, Miss McCarrigan entered Salem jail last week ago.

10,000 SEE HEARST TENNIS FINALS AT HARVARD Sylvia Hatch, Mary Cutter Vie for Women's Crown

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST EVENING NEWSPAPER

GUIBORD Fuller Seek MEN'S

DOUBLES PLAY ALSO LISTED

Harvard University's clay courts are the scene this afternoon of one of the most brilliant tennis tournament climaxes in recent history.

Pruned from the ranks of more than 1100 entries, finalists in all divisions of the gigantic Hearst New England regional tournament, will pit skill and strategy today.

More than 10,000 spectators are expected during the afternoon to witness final matches in men's and women's singles, and in men's doubles, in the thrilling tourney conducted by the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

For every contestant in these matches which have extended over a period of a week, it has been more than a sporting contest for the distinction of being declared winner of the tournament trophies.

WINNERS TO NEW YORK
For the winners, it will mean the honor of representing New England, traditional center of fine tennis players, in the Eastern playoff tournament in New York and the possibility of going to California, to enjoy attention at the expense of the Boston American, while receiving some of the outstanding tennis stars of the nation in the final competition.

In the men's singles today Edward Fuller, Salem, top-seeded entry and salary favorite, a versatile court performer with strong service and backhand, meets Paul Guibord, Melrose, No. 2, men's entry, composed and confident master of the tennis strategy.

In the women's singles, champion Sylvia Hatch, 20-year-old from-stroke artist from Winchester, pits her strategy against the steady-seeder of Mary Cutter, also from Winchester, who upsets the odds by being the former Elma Cresson, Newton, formerly gallery favorite to capture the women's trophy.

UPSET BODMAN DUO
Following two significant upsets in men's singles, doubles, the two teams which will clash today in the finals are Guibord and Fuller, two extremely polished performers, and Walter Leavitt and Vaughn Pipes, who broke through the ranks that had been considered superior.

Leavitt, former University of North Carolina varsity star, and Pipes, veteran of the 1936 Olympics, surprised the gallery by administering a decisive defeat to Summer Bodman, former Harvard varsity player, and Harrison Rowland, continued on Page 13 Column 2

Hearst Net Finals Start at 2 P. M. At Harvard

All final matches in the huge Hearst New England regional tennis tourney will be played today.

Beginning at 2 p. m. at Harvard University's courts adjacent to the Dillon Pond House, matches which climax a brilliant week of tennis in the tournament sponsored by the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser will draw to a close.

Matches will follow in succession, with men's singles starting at 2 p. m., women's singles and men's doubles, versus Mary Cutter, Winchester.

Men's singles—Edward Fuller, Melrose, No. 2, and No. 4 ranking New England players, respectively.

Women's singles—Sylvia Hatch, Winchester, versus Mary Cutter, Winchester.

Men's doubles—Fuller and Guibord versus Walter Leavitt, Dorchester, and Vaughn Pipes, Chicago.

All matches will be free and open to the public, with no seats in the gallery reserved, except for officials.

David S. Niles of the Longwood Cricket Club will referee the men's singles.

Mrs. George W. Whitman, many-time former national champion of Longwood Cricket Club, will officiate the women's singles.

Ralph Chambers, tennis coach at Harvard, will referee men's doubles. Trophies will be presented the winners by Irving S. Wright, president of Longwood Cricket Club, today representing the National Lawn Tennis Association, assisted by Referee Niles and Mrs. Whitman.

In case of any doubts about starting times, or in case of threatening weather, officials may be reached by telephone at this number: Kirkland 7600, Extension 665.

MR. BOSTON

Dublin Wants $100,000 Gate
Danno, Casey

By JACK COSWAY

GERALD de EAGAN, Irish wrestling boxing promoter, has sent an urgent cable from his headquarters at the Gresham Hotel, Dublin, to Jack McGrath, manager of Dan O'Mahony, urging him to do what he can to secure a tussle between Danno and Steve Casey for Dublin.

Egan promoted O'Mahony's tussle with Charley Strack in Dublin last Summer. It drew a crowd of 40,000 persons, and it is the opinion of Egan that an O'Mahony-Casey contest will prove even a greater attraction.

Egan's cable to McGrath is as follows:

"I desire to point out the following advantageous possibilities of a contest between Dan O'Mahony and Steve Casey in Dublin this Summer.

"There is a question in the South-West part of Ireland being asked: Is Steve Casey a greater wrestler than Dan O'Mahony? There is a similar question in the South of Ireland being asked: Is Dan O'Mahony a greater wrestler than Steve Casey?

"Therefore the wrestling of both of these men could not attract as much interest in any part of the world outside of the Irish Free State.

"I believe that such a contest properly promoted with organized services of railroads and buses to Dublin, and with ample time for a publicity ballyhoo would draw $100,000.

"I am prepared to offer a purse of $40,000 and would suggest that 60 per cent go to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. Kindly give this matter your immediate attention.

"I do not believe you will give this bout to any other Irish promoter in view of the happy relations we had in our business dealings a year ago."

Casey's recent mat victory over Ed Don George has made him more popular than ever in Ireland. Reuter's News Service gave special ring-side coverage on the Casey-George bout for Irish and English clients.

TOMMY FARR'S RAPID RISE

TOMMY FARR, the 24-year-old Welshman who will get a crack at Joe Louis' world heavyweight championship in a New York ring in September, has had a rapid rise to the dizzy heights of pugilism.

When Farr defeated Jack Petersen, former British heavyweight champion, he wasn't accepted seriously by American boxing fans. They argued that any one of a dozen second-raters could have done the same thing.

The Welshman gained considerable standing as a boxer when he easily outscored Max Baer. The fact Baer later knocked out Ben Ford, South African heavyweights, made Farr's victory over the former world champion appear more impressive.

More recently, Farr knocked out Walter Neusel, rugged German heavyweight, who has been particularly adept in absorbing punches.

Following Louis' knockout of Jimmy Braddock in Chicago, continued on Page 13 Column 6

Sylvia Hatch, pretty young Winchester tennis star, smashing her way to victory over Bala Madden of Brookline at the Harvard Courts to enter the final round in the New England division of the Hearst Grand National Tennis tournament. Miss Hatch meets Mary Cutter in the final of the women's singles today.

Ball Boys From Winchester

Mat Results

Brookline—Ed Germaine, South Boston, defeated Ed Ballantine, Brookline, 6 straight falls.

Melrose—Joe Humphrey defeated Dick Carson, 4-0.

Camden—Steve Wade defeated Bill Curry, and Lou in three falls.

Winchester, city of tennis champions, has contributed more than 100 top-notch players to the Hearst New England regional tennis tournament at Harvard.

A corps of ballboys, who retrieve tennis balls for the contestants, allowing them to conserve their energy, is one of the features of the tourney being sponsored by the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser.

Incidentally in this group of sunny youngsters, each one an adept player in his own right, are Edward Emilly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Seilly; Everett Twombly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Twombly; Kendall Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Wright; Clifford G. Gough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lundberg; Lane McGowan and his brother, Gordon, sons of Mr. and Mrs. James McGowan—all of Winchester.

The boys learn their technique early by watching the championship matches, and know more about the rules of the exciting game than many of the spectators.

BERG WILL CATCH
Berg did the catching the last time Overmuller started, as it is assumed that the erudite Mos will be kept on the job of trying to straighten "Fritz" out, even though he's caught the last two games.

The best celebration after a homecoming with an 8 to 4 victory over the A's but they didn't seem to have said the club and that they were showing before the trip to Washington.

They were outbitten by the lowly

Ostermueller Seeks First Victory

By JOE CASHMAN

Freddie "Fritz" Ostermueller, who hasn't done enough outpawing for the Red Sox this season to keep himself warm, will be asked to go nine innings, if he can, in the second game of the series with the lowly Connie Macks at the Fen this afternoon.

Freddie hasn't been warm often for the very good reason that he's won even less often. In fact, he hasn't won at all. He'll be seeking his first 1937 victory this p. m.

He gets this nod on the strength of encouraging showings in his last three tries. In part-time performances against the Tigers, Indians and Browns he looked as if he might be ready to do some winning.

"Only" will be forgiven all his past failures if he can turn in an impressive triumph this time.

MISHANDLED?
For once with Johnny Marcano still showing the effects of a mysterious arm ailment, Joe Cronin is greatly in need of another starter, pitcher at the moment, and nothing would please the point more than to have an excuse to let his enigmatic portlander try to fill the bill.

"Fritz" will deserve little further consideration, though, if he flops again. A pitcher who can't beat these astute A's isn't going to beat anybody often enough to earn his keep.

"Only" is a puzzling case. According to the experts, he has everything needed to be a great pitcher. And it's evident to the amateur's eye that he's strong enough, brave enough and has more than enough stuff to be a winner.

But he's been around here four years now and he's yet to have a successful campaign.

Maybe the answer is that he wasn't handled any too well in the past.

Away more than one Sox pitcher has shown marked improvement since New Berg and Gene Desautels began to divide the receiving, and perhaps "Fritz" will do the same.

And "Fritz" was just another buster named Joe the past two years and earlier this season last year Berg became his regular battery mate about a month ago, the young right-hander has developed into a stand-out.

The best celebration after a homecoming with an 8 to 4 victory over the A's but they didn't seem to have said the club and that they were showing before the trip to Washington.

They were outbitten by the lowly

BASEBALL NATIONAL LEAGUE

Club	Won	Lost	P. %	GR
Chicago	48	24	.667	1
New York	40	33	.603	2
St. Louis	35	37	.483	3
Pittsburgh	33	39	.457	4
Boston	27	45	.375	5
Cincinnati	24	48	.333	6
Philadelphia	18	48	.273	7

RESULTS YESTERDAY

Club	Won	Lost	P. %	GR
Boston	2	0	1.000	5
Philadelphia	3	1	.750	6
Chicago	8	1	.889	1
Pittsburgh	7	1	.875	4

GAMES TODAY

Boston at New York.
Brooklyn at Philadelphia.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
St. Louis at Cincinnati.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Club	Won	Lost	P. %	GR
New York	40	22	.645	1
Chicago	37	27	.576	2
Detroit	35	28	.556	3
Boston	32	26	.554	4
Cleveland	30	29	.508	5
Washington	29	33	.469	6
St. Louis	21	33	.393	7
Philadelphia	20	40	.333	8

RESULTS YESTERDAY

Club	Won	Lost	P. %	GR
Boston	8	0	1.000	5
Philadelphia	8	0	1.000	6
Washington	3	2	.600	7
St. Louis	4	0	1.000	8
Chicago	2	0	1.000	9

GAMES TODAY

New York at Washington.
Detroit at Cleveland.
Chicago at St. Louis.

Visitors and weren't out of the woods until they staged a three-run rally in the eighth, featured by Ben Chapman's first home run of the season.

Johnny Marcano, making his second start on the hill since his three-week layoff with a knee injury, was credited with his seventh victory of the season, but he wasn't his old self by any means.

He served up a home run ball to Russ Peters with two on base in the first and after a "Buster" Miller homer had put him two runs up in the sixth, he weakened again and had to be relieved by "Lefty" McKain.

Miss Round Wins Women's Singles

Wins Title For Second Time

Wm. Edgar Long, 333 A.D.N., Toronto, Ont., 19-year-old daughter of an English-born Canadian, defeated Jimmy A. Delaney, boxer, an Polish immigrant, by 20-0 in a fight at Wm. Edgar Long's residence of the night and was the champion of the world.

[illegible]

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a review of the literature on the effects of the environment on the development of the human brain. The second part of the paper is devoted to a review of the literature on the effects of the environment on the development of the human brain.

Point score of the first set:
Miss Round 8 1 2 4 4 4 5—36—
Mlle. Jedrzejowska 6 4 4 4 1 4 2 3—28—
Point score of the second set:
Miss Round 5 4 2 1 1 1 4 2—20—
Mlle.

Announce A. A. U Point Scores

[illegible]

U.S. Navy, 1964, p. 10.

Sports Mirror

By the Associated Press

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Don
Lash set native American record
of 31.069 for 10,000 meters in Olympic tryouts. Fred Perry won
Wimbledon singles title for third straight year.

THREE YEARS AGO—Yankee
killed by Red Sox after eight

Oil and Vaseline

Oakland Helps
Oakland Calif. June 3—(UPI)— fact are "unusually" increasing in New York Yankees have indeed the year closed in a seventh place in the American League in while the Yankees are stilling prein the American and National

Top Seeds Meet In Hearst Finals

Partner his foe. Edward Fuller, who meets Paul Guibord in the men's single finals at Harvard today, will also team with Guibord in the men's doubles final.

Hearst Finals At Harvard

[illegible][illegible]

Cape Baseball League Swings Into Action

Plymouth-Duxbury Marathon Draws 56 Plodders

[illegible]

Paths Traveled By Finalists

First Round—defeated Walter E. Fife, Wilmington, Del., 6-0, 6-1.
Second Round—defeated Claudia Viorallo, Adams, 6-0, 6-1.
Third Round—defeated Maria Lash, Lexington, 6-0, 6-1.
Fourth Round—defeated John J. Hines, Lexington, 6-0, 6-1.
Quarter-final—defeated William White, Manchester, N. H., 6-0, 6-1.
Semi-final—defeated Baba Madden Jamin, Falm., 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.
MARY ETTEN
First Round—drew by second Round—defeated Virginia M. Fisher, Brookline, 6-0, 6-1.
Third Round—defeated Beane Lincoln, Falm., 6-0, 6-3, 6-1.
Fourth Round—defeated Dorothy R. Parks, Arlington, 6-3, 6-2.
Quarter-final—defeated Edna Shavert, Quincy, 8-3, 8-2.
Semi-final—defeated Elena L. Nixon, Newton, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4.
MARY ETTEN
First Round—defeated John J. Reddy, Adams, 6-1, 6-3.
Second Round—won from William Daley, Newton, by default.
Third Round—defeated John J. Reddy, Adams, 6-1, 6-3.
Fourth Round—defeated Samuel Padellaro, Fall River, 6-2, 6-0.
Round of 64—defeated Vivian Herman, Duxbury, 6-2, 6-0.
Round of 32—defeated William J. Hines, Falm., 6-0, 6-1.
Round of 16—defeated Edna Lippincott, Cambridge, 6-1, 6-1.
Quarter-final—defeated Edna Lippincott, Cambridge, 6-1, 6-1.
Semi-final—defeated Norman Himes, Melrose, 6-1, 6-2.
Final—defeated Norman Himes, Melrose, 6-1, 6-2.
MARY ETTEN
First Round—drew by
second Round—won from Fred Fletcher, Lexington, by default.
Third Round—defeated John Fawcett, Hingham, 6-0, 6-0.
Fourth Round—defeated John Fawcett, Hingham, 6-0, 6-0.
Round of 64—defeated W. Oliver Hughes, Haverhill, 6-1, 6-0.
Round of 32—defeated George Astorlin, Lynn, 6-1, 6-1.
Round of 16—defeated George Astorlin, Lynn, 6-1, 6-1.
Quarter final—defeated Samuel Rodman, Boston, 6-3, 7-5.
Semi-final—defeated Samuel Rodman, Boston, 6-3, 7-5.

Bourne Nine Again Title Favorite

[illegible][illegible]

 Semi-Weekly Standard, St. Louis, Mo., Tuesday, November 10, 1903.
MR. BOSTON
 Continued from Page 8.
 stated that Farr would get the next title shot in the event Max Schmeling refused to give Mike Jacobs of the Twentieth Century Club a suitable financial guarantee that he would defend the title under his direction, or if he quit the Ring himself.
Jacobs insisted that Schmeling put a sufficiently large cash guarantee. Max refused to do this, and this explains why Farr instead of the German will get the next crack at the champion.
 Farr will sign a contract giving Mike Jacobs, Twentieth Century Club, an exclusive right to his services, and if he becomes champion, will give him a thirty per cent. of the boxing money.

ACE MAY BEAT SCHWELING

[illegible]

getting away

Louis won't be in serious danger of getting knocked out by Farr, but he may find it difficult to catch up with the Welshman with

Sign Your Own

Tabor Academy Crew Wins Again

London Evening Express Photo

Slap to Nazis

Following the Charles River and All matches are free and open to the public, with no charges of any kind being made, and no seats reserved.

The matches will proceed one after another, with women's singles following the men's and the men's doubles being the last entries on the program.

Each match, under normal conditions, should last from between Billweaver, John, and A. A. Billweaver, Jr., are invited to lead a team of American track and field athletes to Germany for an exhibition trip this summer.

Park League Standings

TEAM	RANK	PTS	W	L	T	PTS	W	L	T
NE	1st	14	5	3	21	Emory	1st	8	2	7	25
SE	2nd	12	4	4	18	W. H. C.	2nd	7	3	6	23
W	3rd	10	3	5	15	W. H. C.	3rd	6	4	5	22
Jordan	4th	10	3	5	15	to the Blue	4th	5	5	4	20
W	5th	8	2	6	14	W. H. C.	5th	4	6	3	17
SE	6th	7	1	7	9	W. H. C.	6th	3	7	2	13
NE	7th	7	1	7	9	W. H. C.	7th	3	7	2	13
W	8th	6	1	7	9	W. H. C.	8th	2	8	1	11

BOSTON ADVERTISER
